FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Welcome to the 2022 Bank Iowa Annual Report. I'm pleased to share that 2022 was a strong year for Bank Iowa with solid progress across all five areas of our 2025 Focus Pillars: Performance, Growth, Talent, Innovation, and Brand Experience.

Financial results were again very favorable in 2022 after a record year in 2021. In 2020 and 2021, mortgage loan and PPP origination income contributed significantly to our performance. Even though 2022 mortgage loan origination income was down substantially due to higher interest rates, and there was no PPP origination income, consolidated net income remained strong at $22.3 million. This total is slightly lower than $23 million in consolidated income we experienced in 2021.

Bank Iowa also experienced record growth in 2022, reaching the $1.9 billion in total assets mark for the first time in bank history. Loan growth across all regions was especially robust at 17.3 percent. At the same time, loan quality is at an all-time high, and we benefitted from net loan loss recoveries in 2022.

ENGAGEMENT

Three years ago, we started a journey with The Gallup Organization to measure and build team member engagement. As measured by the Gallup Q12 Engagement Survey, we again showed significant improvement in 2022. This performance is in stark contrast to sentiment from the U.S. and worldwide workforces, which have seen reduced engagement on the heels of the pandemic. Engaged team members create positive business outcomes, so we will continue to focus on engagement in the years ahead. Our next goal is to achieve Gallup's best of class status, which I believe is attainable in the next year or two.

ENHANCED TECHNOLOGY

We continue to make excellent progress in our development and implementation of technology and digital solutions.

The following things occurred in 2022:

- Introduced a new online and in-branch account opening platform
- Initiated the development of a new online and in-branch consumer loan application and decisioning platform
- Implemented a new digital storage/retrieval and document tracking system
- Continued to make progress in the implementation of a suite of products designed to enhance our compliance, risk, vendor management, and audit management.

COMPLIANCE

Regulatory exams are a fact of life in banking, and we welcome such exams as a means of measuring our strength and progress. We had numerous opportunities to work with our regulator friends in 2022, as we successfully completed a Federal Reserve Compliance and Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) exam, an Iowa Division of Banking Safety and Soundness exam, and numerous other compliance, Bank Secrecy Act (BSA), cybersecurity, IT, and loan quality audits.

CYBER SECURITY

Cyber risks and fraud activities by bad actors have increased dramatically in recent years. We take seriously our responsibility to protect the security of our information and prevent fraud losses. We continue to enhance our cybersecurity position and in 2022 helped prevent more than $2 million of fraud losses against our clients. Ongoing monitoring and awareness by Bank Iowa's BSA team and front-line team members were keys to this achievement.

RETAIL FOCUS

We kicked off an increased emphasis of our retail banking sector in 2021 and continue to build out our retail strategy. All retail team members completed online consumer loan training to begin the process of retail team members originating consumer loans. This allowed ag, commercial, and mortgage lenders to focus on their areas of specialty. We also opened a record number of new DDA accounts in 2022.

BANK IOWA SUMMIT

In October 2022, our entire team gathered to meet at the Bank Iowa Summit. Held every two years, the Bank Iowa Summit included a social event at Smash Park in West Des Moines the night prior. The next day was filled with motivational speakers, a community service project, networking and team-building events. Our most recent gathering had been in February 2020, shortly before the COVID shutdowns, so having everyone together again was a welcomed experience.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Volunteer activities are an important part of improving the quality of life in the communities we serve. Our opportunities for such activities were significantly impaired in 2020 and 2021 due to COVID, but in 2022 our team members were back at it and logged over 10,000 volunteer hours. We're proud of the role Bank Iowa and our team members play in our communities.

Our family shareholders are committed to the future of Bank Iowa as a family-owned community bank. To help fulfill this commitment, we completed a new Shareholder Agreement to assist with the transition of ownership to subsequent generations.

ON-GOING IMPROVEMENT

In late 2022 we kicked off the information gathering phase of a comprehensive evaluation of efficiency, process, and profitability improvement. The analysis phase of this project will occur in Q1 and Q2 of 2023, with a final report of recommendations expected late in Q2. Implementation of the recommendations will be a point of emphasis in the last half of 2023 and throughout 2024. We will also press on with our efforts to increase non-interest income.

In closing, we will continue to focus on efficiency and profitability improvement, growth, team member engagement, talent development, the utilization of technology, and further strengthening of the Bank Iowa brand. I'm extremely proud of our team members' abilities to overcome the many challenges relating to COVID these past three years, and to still deliver exceptional services and results. And I'm grateful for the continued support and confidence of our clients, team members, and shareholders. Here's to continued success in 2023 and beyond.

The region also partnered with Fun In the Son Daycare of Fredericksburg, Lawler Little League, and volunteered with the Salvation Army in December.

BANK IOWA CULTURE UPDATES

Several exciting endeavors began, including the launch of a new internship program and the inception of a Social and Culture Committee to increase team member connections. The IT Department made enhancements to cybersecurity and the Cognos reporting system. We also celebrated and learned together at the Bank Iowa Summit.

BANK IOWA INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Bank Iowa's '22 interns with their mentors and sponsors.

While Bank Iowa has always had interns, 2022 marked the official launch of the Bank Iowa Internship Program. Nine interns throughout the state had a full-fledged 10-to-12-week paid summer internship with Bank Iowa in a variety of roles. The program was designed for college students to build their knowledge in finance and other banking functions, while providing them with the experience and skills needed to be successful in their careers.

“We believe that investing in young professionals is crucial to the future success of our organization, and the Bank Iowa Internship Program is designed with that in mind.”

– Jill Shedek, Learning and Development Manager and Bank Iowa Internship Program Lead

Bank Iowa offers two different paths for interns to choose from: rotational or focused programs.

The rotational internship provides a comprehensive introduction to the banking industry with an emphasis on banking operations and client experiences across core banking functions. This includes agriculture and commercial relationship management, retail banking, and mortgage lending.

Additional job shadow experiences include credit administration and treasury management.

The recommended audience for the rotational program are sophomore or junior college students looking to gain an introduction to the community banking industry.

The focused internships provide hands-on experience within a specific department.

Interns gain experience and knowledge to support their professional interests and jump start their career after graduation. Daily work and key projects align with the department each intern is assigned.

Department assignments include agriculture and commercial relationship management, credit administration, finance and accounting, human resources, information technology, marketing, mortgage lending, and retail banking.

The focused program is designed for college students looking to gain experience in a specific operational discipline. Past banking experience is preferred for students pursuing internships focused on relationship management or retail banking.

Interns are provided business acumen training to gain an understanding of how Bank Iowa executes strategies to achieve annual goals, objectives, and various professional development opportunities. Interns also participate in a community service project together to demonstrate Bank Iowa's community-minded values.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY UPDATE

TEAM MEMBER AND CLIENT EXPERIENCE

The Bank Iowa IT Department traveled to each Bank Iowa location to complete scheduled laptop replacements and upgrade nearly 400 monitors. The IT team also organized and participated in regional roundtables for active feedback sessions.

The department also set out to improve consistency by revising the Cognos reporting system for more consistently delivered reports. That was not the only effort to improve efficiency, as the team also expanded automation systems for process accuracy, which improved efficiencies as well. They also provided support through the launches of OnBase loan document management, including core integration, and Newgen online and in-branch deposit account opening platform.

CYBERSECURITY

With cybersecurity becoming a larger concern these days, the Bank Iowa IT Department prioritizes efforts to avoid threats and improve cybersecurity throughout all facets of the bank. This year, they implemented a new Microsoft security monitoring solution to actively detect and respond to cyber threats. IT also enacted new software update services for consistent and complete patching and updating of computers. In addition to that, new systems were added to prevent unauthorized access to the physical network.

Completed 5,793 service tickets.

Received a 99.8% service ticket satisfaction rating.

SOCIAL & CULTURE COMMITTEE

This year, Bank Iowa started a new committee called the Social and Culture Committee (SACC). Its purpose is to enhance the team member experience at Bank Iowa through the creation of meaningful bank-wide activities and by fostering more personal connections. The committee discovers ways that team members can feel more connected with one another with a sense of belonging, passion, and energy at work.

SACC plans celebrations and recognition events to elevate our team members' personal experiences at work. The goal is that this enhanced experience motivates team members to come to work and do what they do best, but also continue to choose a career at Bank Iowa because of the heartfelt connection they feel.

The committee brainstorms and develops events, activities, and programs to further support the Bank Iowa Talent Focus Pillar. These events support engagement, talent, and inclusion goals while being fun, social, and educational to bring team members together in support of Bank Iowa's purpose, vision, and values.

The committee's official kickoff was July 1, 2022, and included at least one representative from each region.

Some events and activities SACC has coordinated so far include celebrating National Ice Cream Month, a guess-the-pet-owner contest, local tailgate activities, a toy drive to support Childhood Cancer Awareness Month, recognizing National Coffee Day, a bank-wide costume contest, Banksgiving and a food drive to benefit local food banks, and a gingerbread house decorating contest.

BANK IOWA SUMMIT

Every two years, Bank Iowa Summit brings together team members from all of our locations across the state for a day full of inspiring speakers, networking, and a community service project. A committee of employees assembled across all regions planned the event that took place on October 10, 2022.

This year's theme, "It Starts With You," aimed to encourage everyone to bring their best selves to work each day and reinforce the importance of empathy in the workplace.

The Bank Iowa Summit theme was derived from the value "bring your best" in an effort to not only reflect the significance of this value but to also inspire team members to live it out each day they come to work.

The night before the event, a pre-Summit meetup took place allowing everyone the chance to socialize, play games, and network before the big day.

Summit kicked off with breakfast and opening remarks from President and CEO, Jim Plagge, followed by an opening keynote from Kristen Brown. Brown's presentation discussed takeaways from her book, "The Happy Hour Effect." She focused on tactics that help with stress relief and increased happiness in the workplace.

The second speaker, Michele Matt, shared her "Your EQ is More Important Than Your IQ" presentation about emotional intelligence, which promotes the ability to thrive in today's workplace.

The entire Bank Iowa team also had the chance to hear from a panel featuring some of senior leadership at the bank with Q&A featuring questions from Bank Iowa team members.

The closing ceremony honored the 2022 values award winners, community service, and years of service awards. Pages 30-35 features more details on these award winners.

RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE

Each Bank Iowa Summit includes a corporate social responsibility activity to demonstrate our core values. This activity is also designed to incorporate team-building while making a positive difference in the community.

The Ronald McDonald House was the focus of the 2022 Summit social responsibility activity and each region was tasked with collecting donation items and packaging the meal kits for the organization. Families travel to Des Moines from all over the state and have the opportunity to stay at the Ronald McDonald House.

Meal kits are provided to families once they leave the Ronald McDonald House and return home. These meal kits are intended to take the guess work out of "What's for dinner?" and make it easy on families, who are often dealing with their child's ongoing medical issues.

Bank Iowa team members were proud to exemplify the value of "being people-centered," and they showed up in a big way.

Leading up to Summit, Bank Iowa set a goal of packaging 100 meal kits. Bank Iowa team members more than doubled that by packaging 210 meal kits.

A representative from the Ronald McDonald House was able to attend Summit and provide an overview of just how impactful these donations will be to their families.

Ronald McDonald House typically receives meal kits in smaller quantities and amounts, which means week to week they are unsure just how many meal kits they will be able to provide. By providing a bulk donation of 210 kits, Ronald McDonald House will be able to provide meal kits to families consistently for 2-3 months and stock up on additional meal kits.

New Hampton

be people-centered
CINDY ZEIEN

The winner of this year's Be People-Centered values award is Cindy Zeien, retail branch manager in New Hampton. Cindy is known to be a warm, helpful individual who embodies everything Bank Iowa is about. Working face-to-face with our clients as a teller and now as a branch manager, Cindy's role is critical to demonstrating our values every day. She is always quick to make personal connections with our clients and always exhibits Bank Iowa's values.

Cindy meets any project with a positive attitude. She has an incredible work ethic, and she always gets the job done with a smile. Cindy takes the time to organize monthly potlucks for her location with fun themes. She understands the importance of our culture. She always remembers important dates, including birthdays, and makes everyone in the office feel special. Cindy really masters the human connection part of the job. She is always leaving small surprises and nice notes on everyone's desks. These qualities Cindy has are not learned, they are part of the person she is, and that is why she received the Be People-Centered award.

West Des Moines

bring your best
AMY FROST

The winner of this year's Bring Your Best values award is Amy Frost, teller supervisor in West Des Moines. Amy brings her best each day whether she is at her own branch or assisting another. She always has a friendly voice and smiling face.

She not only adds value to her team, but to the entire region by offering to help without hesitation. Amy is always willing to step in to help train new team members. This provides a great onboarding experience for those joining Bank Iowa and sets the tone for the culture we seek to foster.

She delivers exceptional experiences to both her customers and our staff and goes above and beyond every day. Clients always look forward to Amy's friendly, upbeat attitude which she brings to every interaction. She's very thorough and dependable. People know they can count on Amy.

Amy represents Bank Iowa's Bring Your Best value with her amazing attitude and friendliness, which is why she was awarded the Bring Your Best award.

Corporate

enable great things
RYAN HUINKER

The winner of this year's Enable Great Things values award is Ryan Huinker, director of credit administration and operations.

Ryan is a very patient and organized individual, as well as a dedicated leader. These leadership skills were especially demonstrated when working on the PPP program that started in March of 2020.

From the get-go, Ryan dug in and put a plan in place, including creating background documents, how-tos, procedures, and a team to implement the program. He took the time to learn the program inside and out, and if he did not know the answer, he found one.

Ryan's dedication and leadership in his role made a stressful time more enjoyable, and his management helped us come out of it with some great accomplishments. Throughout the process, he remained patient and was always there to help, which is why Ryan was awarded the Enable Great Things award.

think big CAROL GONZALES

The winner of this year's Think Big values award is Carol Gonzales, loan assistant in Colfax.

Over the past two years, Carol has consistently demonstrated her commitment to delivering exceptional experiences and adding value to internal team members, especially in her work with one particular problem account.

Her tenacious work ethic and the ability to always go above and beyond to organize and orchestrate the daily activities of this complex situation has been second-to-none. Carol has taken on this role while maintaining all of her other existing duties over the past two years. Her work ethic and positive attitude is clearly demonstrated as she brings her best each day.

Bank Iowa is filled with exceptional talent, yet Carol reaches a new level by consistently delivering great service. Her research helped Bank Iowa realize significant value in recovery efforts, and without her intuition and help, this would not have been possible. Carol's ability to anticipate needs has added a tremendous amount of value to Bank Iowa's overall effort, which is why she was awarded the Think Big award.
